

‘Art students in Miss Bakers Year 10 class have been creating exciting art work based on the theme ‘Identity’. We have been studying and developing our observational drawing skills on real life objects, creating imaginative final ideas linked with artists. Students are becoming more confident with their use of materials and are enjoying exploring and experimenting with ideas. Here are some fabulous examples of their creative outcomes as well as some home works. Keep up the fabulous work Year 10’

Personal Response

This is my personal response to a Thomas Saliot watercolour painting. I really like Saliot's use of watercolour, he builds up to add depth and dimension. His variety of colour and shades inspire me. I decided to recreate one of his paintings as I loved the colors and the way they were applied. I looked for a picture I liked.

Thomas Saliot has been painting and traveling for last 20 years. He now lives between Marrakech and Paris.
Thomas describes his work by saying, "I work hard" from photos I find all over the web. It's a bit in the spirit of a blog where I use 100 images like snapshots over centuries."
Born 1968

Thomas Saliot

work, I have loved new things I love, using his style of watercolour technique of watercolour.
I have loved my work, I have loved to be called a painter, I don't do actors, the thing I love is the style of watercolour. My work is as I have loved to be called a painter, I don't do actors, the thing I love is the style of watercolour. My work is as I have loved to be called a painter, I don't do actors, the thing I love is the style of watercolour.

